

EFT WOMAN TO FACE THE WORLDM. Stout Writes Brutal Letter to Alleged Wife.

ISON ENDS HER LIFE

LATH PREFERABLE TO DESER-
TION IN A STRANGE COUNTRY.

Death came to the relief of the woman known as Mrs. J. M. Stout yesterday morning at 11:40 o'clock at Holy Cross hospital. The night before she allowed an ounce of carbolic acid, as a reason that her husband deserted her and she had nothing to live for.

The woman took the poison at 7:40 o'clock Tuesday night. She remained unconscious until early yesterday morning when she recovered sufficient to talk a little. Later in the morning she attempted to make an ante-mortem statement to Assistant County Attorney J. Whitaker. She was unable to complete it, however, as death took her in its fold and granted her wish to die.

The direct cause of Mrs. Stout's suicide was the receipt of the following explanatory letter from the man supposed to be her husband. It was written on Rio Grande railroad paper, dated Oct. 10, and addressed to Mrs. Stout. It ran as follows:

Cast the Woman Off.
This life is a burden to me. I have to live with you. I have to let my Maker sooner or later, and I am going to leave this country. Sell your house and do what you can. You are no success in this life. You are a failure. Good-bye. Your lover.

The ante-mortem statement of the woman was as follows:

At her home on Tenth Street a number of love letters were found written to the dead woman at Ray, W. Va., from a man who signed himself J. M. Stout. The letters were dated April 1902, and were addressed to Mrs. Stout. The letters do not bear out the statement of the woman that she and the man were married five years ago. Some of the letters were dated in 1901, 1902, and were addressed to Mrs. Stout. The man told that they had been married once before, but that his first wife had died. The officers believe they were never married.

It is evident from the contents of some of the letters and what the two people told new acquaintances in the city that they left Paterson, N. J., about a year or six months ago, and went to Columbus, O., where a home was bought. It was afterwards learned that the man had been married once before, but that his first wife had died. The officers believe they were never married.

The mother has been notified of the tragic death of her daughter. Until some word is received from her no arrangements will be made for the funeral.

The troupe reaches Dallas, Texas, the fair Salt Lake singer will sign with the company, and continue with it throughout its present tour. In the case of the troupe, Miss Shepard will make her initial appearance as a regular member of the company in a leading role for the first time.

Miss Shepard, who is well known for her sweet soprano voice, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shepard. In local musical circles she is known as the possessor of a remarkably fine voice, wide in range, mellow in tone and used in a manner denoting long, efficient and careful training.

Had Two Flattering Offers.
At the concert given at the Grand theatre Sunday night Miss Shepard gave a vocal selection which attracted the attention of the critical musical ear of the manager of "The Chaperons," which company closed its engagement last evening at the Salt Lake theatre. She was asked to call at the latter play house, that her voice might be further tested. After running over a few selections from "The Chaperons" and other difficult pieces, the management of the company offered her a position.

A similar offer was made Miss Shepard by a representative of "The Storks" company, which opens a short engagement here this evening. Although Miss Shepard was first inclined to accept the offer of the "Chaperons," she has now decided to accept the offer of the "Storks."
